THE POINT NETWORK PROGRAM

The Rhode Island Division of Elderly Affairs (DEA), in cooperation with its community partners, has developed a new concept in elder care services. THE POINT Network Program (PNP) is designed to bring information, referral, and long-term care options counseling, as well as the most effective health care service and service delivery under one roof. The PNP initiative brings together the regional Aging and Disability Resource Centers (ADRCs), Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP), Senior Medicare Patrol Program (SMP), and Medicare Improvement for Patients and Providers Act (MIPPA). The regional integration of these core services ensures that seniors, adults with disabilities, families, and caregivers receive essential and timely information that is consistent, culturally appropriate, and in their own communities. The six regional agencies and their service areas are:

Region 1: Tri-Town Community Action Agency

ALZHEIMER’S DISEASE

More than 25,000 Rhode Island residents are living with Alzheimer’s disease or a related dementia. Alzheimer’s robs the individual of memory, basic functions, and ultimately life. Alzheimer’s disease also takes a toll on family caregivers as they deal with the consequences of dementia, in terms of lost or less productive work time, damage to their physical and emotional health, a threat to their financial security, and constant stress. The Long Term Care Coordinating Council has developed a State Plan for Alzheimer’s disease and related disorders. The plan is available at www.ltgov.ri.gov.

The Alzheimer’s Association, Rhode Island Chapter, 245 Waterman Avenue, Providence, RI 02906, is a non-profit organization whose mission is to coordinate resources for caregivers, educate health professionals and the general public, and advocate for improved public policy.

The Rhode Island Department of Human Services, Division of Elderly Affairs (DEA) Protective Services Unit, 74 West Road, Cranston, RI 02920, is responsible for investigating complaints of abuse of Rhode Islanders 60 and older by a family member, caregiver, or person with duty of care. Abuse may be physical, emotional, sexual, financial exploitation, or abandonment.

Self-neglect occurs when a person is no longer able to care for himself/herself. Reports of self-neglect are also made to the DEA Protective Services Unit. The senior’s needs are assessed and necessary services can be provided.

Rhode Island law requires any person who has reasonable cause to believe that a senior has been abused, or is neglecting his or her basic needs, to report it to DEA. Failure to report abuse of a person 60 or older can result in a fine of up to $1,000.

Abuse and self-neglect reports can be filed 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and on nights, weekends, and holidays, by calling 462-0555. Reports can be filed anonymously.

The DEA Protective Services Unit works with case management agencies to develop a care plan that prevents additional abuse and addresses the elder’s needs.

Under Rhode Island law (R.I.G.L 42-66-10), DEA records pertaining to a person reported to be abused, neglected, exploited, or abandoned, are confidential and are not deemed public records.

The Commission for the Safety and Care of the Elderly works with fire and police advocates in each community to address domestic violence, safety, and other issues. A current listing of fire and police advocates can be found on the DEA web site under the “Commission for the Safety and Care of the Elderly” link.

FOOD ASSISTANCE

The statewide Senior Nutrition Programs are now known as the Cafés. Each Café will offer at least two of the three meal choices daily. The “spa option,” for the health conscious, features lighter fare such as a main course salad. The “pub option” offers a sandwich for those who want a traditional, wholesome lunch. And the “hearty option” provides a full, hot lunch for those who prefer their main meal at midday. The Cafés welcome all diners 60 and over (in the case of a married couple, only one spouse must be over 60). There is a suggested donation of $3 per meal. No one is turned away if they cannot make a donation. SNAP beneficiaries may use their Electronic Benefits Cards (EBTs) at Cafés. Reservations are required 24 hours in advance. The Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), formerly known as the Food Stamp Program, can provide assistance to help individuals and families who are struggling to purchase food.

Income Eligibility for Seniors & Adults with Disabilities:
One person.........................................................................$1,772 per month
Two persons..............................................................................$2,392 per month
Seniors and adults with disabilities with incomes above those amounts may still be eligible, but these individuals will have a $3,250 resource limit.

Several deductions are subtracted from a person’s gross income to determine the benefit. They may include deductions for household and telephone expenses, an earned income deduction for individuals who are working, deductions for medical expenses, and excess shelter costs. Adults who are eligible for SNAP receive their benefits using an Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) card. The EBT card is accepted at grocery and retail food stores across the state for the purchase of food items. Applicants may request a home or telephone interview. For more information, contact your local Department of Human Services office, or call the University of Rhode Island SNAP Outreach Project.

FOOD ASSISTANCE

The University of Rhode Island Feinstein Center for a Hunger Free America helps low-income individuals and families access food assistance benefits. The goal of this outreach program is to increase participation in SNAP. Benefits help families and individuals supplement their food budgets so that they can buy higher-quality and more nutritious food using their EBT cards. SNAP allows persons who are 60 and older, disabled or homeless to use their EBT cards to purchase meals at participating restaurants. EBT cards can also be used at Farmers’ Markets across the state.

THE POINT:
462-4444...............................................................462-4445 (TTY)

For persons who meet the guidelines for the Rhode Island Home and Community Care Co-Pay Program, services are provided at a reduced rate. Co-payment amounts are determined by the client’s income level. Annual income guidelines are $14,588 for a single person and $19,963 for a couple at Level One and $23,340 for a single person, and $31,460 for a couple at Level Two. DEA works with a network of regional case management agencies to develop care plans to help seniors remain in the least restrictive and safest environment. To be eligible for the Co-Pay Program, a person must be a Rhode Island resident age 65 or older, be ineligible for Medicaid, unable to leave home without considerable assistance, and need help with the tasks of daily living.

Rhode Island Housing, 44 Washington Street, Providence, RI 02903, oversees the management of 20,000 apartments for low-income seniors, families, and persons with disabilities. Approximately 15,000 of these apartments are Section 8. Under this category, tenants pay 30 percent of their income for rent. The remaining 5,000 apartments have a variety of subsidies that keep the rents affordable for low-income households. Generally, residents of Section 8 apartments must earn no more than 50 percent of the Housing and Urban Development (HUD) median family income for their community and household size. Applicants can apply for housing in any community in which they would like to live. Most communities have a waiting list for these affordable housing units.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE (MEDICAID)

Community Medical Assistance Fee-For-Service is “traditional” Medical Assistance (Medicaid). Health or medical benefits are obtained directly from a provider that accepts Medical Assistance. Individuals over age 65 may be eligible for Medicaid if they are a Rhode Island resident, have a work history of less than 10 years that disqualifies them for Medicare, and who meet specified guidelines. A person may still qualify for Medicaid if they have unpaid medical expenses. The “flex test” may reduce their income to fall within Medicaid guidelines.

MEDICAL ASSISTANCE (MEDICAID)

Medicaid Long Term Care (LTC) services are available for individuals over age 65 and for adults with disabilities. Services include nursing home care or home and community-based supports, such as homemaker/CNA services, special medical equipment, Meals on Wheels, personal emergency response systems, case management, Senior Companions, assisted living, respite, or minor home modifications. Individuals must require a certain level of care to qualify. Only individuals who qualify for the highest level of care are eligible for nursing facility care. In the next year, there will be changes to Medicaid as a result of the implementation of the Integrated Care Initiative for persons enrolled in both Medicare and Medicaid. Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP) counselors will be able to assist beneficiaries in making the most appropriate choice for their long-term health care needs.

MEDICARE

Medicare is the nation’s health insurance program for people 65 and older, and younger people who are disabled for 24 months, or who have end stage renal disease. Medicare consists of four parts—Part A (Hospital Insurance), Part B (Medical Insurance), Part C (Medicare Advantage Insurance Plans), and Medicare Part D (Medicare Prescription Drug Plans). Persons over age 65 are automatically entitled to Medicare Part A if they or their spouse are eligible for Social Security or Railroad Retirement.

Part A covers a portion of inpatient hospital, skilled nursing facility, home health, and hospice care. Part B is optional insurance that supplements Part A coverage. Part B covers a portion of medical and physician services, outpatient hospital, home health, durable medical equipment, laboratory and x-ray, ambulance, and other services. Apply for Medicare at Social Security, or online three months before turning age 65.

MEDICARE PREMIUM PAYMENT PROGRAMS

Medicare Premium Payment (MPP) programs help Medicare beneficiaries pay some or all of the cost of their Medicare Part A and Medicare Part B premiums, deductibles, and co-insurances.

For the Qualified Medicare Beneficiary (QMB) program, the Department of Human Services (DHS) Medicaid Division will pay both the Medicare Part A, if applicable, and Medicare Part B premiums, deductibles, and co-insurance for persons over 65, and adults with disabilities, if their income does not exceed:
Single: $973/month.....................................................Married: $1,311/month

For the Specified Low-Income Medicare Beneficiary program (SLMB), Medicaid will pay the Medicare Part B premium if the beneficiary’s income does not exceed:
Single: $1,167/month..................................................Married: $1,573/month

For the Qualified Individual (QI1) program, Medicaid will pay the Medicare Part B premium, subject to availability of state funds, if the beneficiary’s income does not exceed:
Single: $1,313/month..................................................Married: $1,770/month

The resource limits for all MPP programs are:
Single: $7,160......................................................................Married: $10,750

PENSION ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

For many seniors, pensions are a significant part of their retirement income. Pensions, Social Security benefits, savings, and investments all contribute to financial security in the post-employment world. With the shifting of pensions from defined benefits to 401 (k), 403 (b), and other plans, company mergers, business bankruptcies, and the introduction of hybrid pension plans, it can be difficult to determine if you are entitled to a benefit, what that benefit actually is, and how to apply for benefits. The New England Pension Assistance Project (NEPAP), affiliated with the Gerontology Institute at the University of Massachusetts in Boston, offers free pension counseling services to Rhode Islanders to help them find lost pensions, correct pension errors, and answer questions about pension laws. The service can include tracing pension benefits from companies that have been merged or have gone bankrupt, researching and filing for spousal or survival benefits, and answering pension eligibility questions.

RESPITE CARE PROGRAMS

Respite is planned or emergency care that provides temporary relief to family caregivers of person 60 or older. The CareBreaks Program assists caregivers taking care of family members age 60 and older. Some volunteers may be available. If needed, CareBreaks may also help to pay part of the cost for respite provided by approved agencies. For information, contact the Diocese of Providence, One Cathedral Square, Providence, RI 02903. 421-7833.........................................................www.dioceseofprovidence.org

The Rhode Island TimeBank Initiative works with partners across the state to build support networks of individuals, children, youth, families, and communities across the state. For every hour that a person assists an individual or group, he/she earns a Time Dollar. They can then use that Time Dollar to receive an hour of a neighbor’s time or engage in a group activity offered by a neighbor. Senior Center Month is observed each year in September. The celebration recognizes these community centers for their vital role in assisting and supporting seniors, adults with disabilities, families, and caregivers, by helping them access programs and services that preserve their independence and maintain their dignity. Call your local senior center to find out about Senior Center Month events.
SENIOR COMPANION PROGRAM

The Senior Companion Program (SCP) trains volunteers to serve isolated older adults in their own homes, adult day centers, and other community sites. Volunteers must be 55 or older and must meet specified income limits. Volunteers receive a tax-free stipend and other benefits while serving clients an average of 20 hours weekly. Senior Companions visit with almost 500 elders weekly. Over the course of more than 30 years of service to Rhode Island’s elders, volunteers have dedicated more than one million hours of friendship, compassion, and one-to-one human contact to those in need of a helping hand, socialization, and companionship.

SENIOR HEALTH INSURANCE PROGRAM (SHIP)

The Rhode Island Senior Health Insurance Program (SHIP) is part of a national partnership to help consumers make informed health care choices. SHIP volunteers provide one-to-one, unbiased counseling to seniors, adults with disabilities, families, and caregivers. The program is designed to help seniors and adults with disabilities understand health care cost and coverage. SHIP counselors can discuss Medicare, Medicare Part D, supplemental insurance, Medicare Advantage plans, and other health insurance options. SHIP counselors assist beneficiaries in making the most appropriate choice for their health care needs.

For a complete listing of SHIP agencies, please refer to POINT Network section in this guide.

SOCIAL SECURITY

The Social Security Administration is the primary source of information for Social Security, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), and Medicare enrollment. These offices accept walk-ins for applying for Social Security, Supplemental Security Income (SSI), and provides Medicare information, and Medicare enrollment services. You can call ahead for an appointment, which will reduce your wait time in the office. Many Social Security services can now be accessed online at www.ssa.gov by creating a personalized My Social Security account. With the My Social Security account, you can enroll in Social Security and Medicare, apply for Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Social Security Disability (SSDI) benefits, check your application status, apply for the Low-Income Subsidy (LIS-Extra Help) benefit for your Medicare Prescription Drug (Medicare Part D) plan, review your Social Security earnings record, estimate your benefit, or appeal a decision. Social Security benefits are paid by electronic transfer. You can designate a bank or credit union for direct deposit, or you can switch to a Social Security-designated pre-paid debit card.

TRANSPORTATION PROGRAMS

LogistiCare coordinates specialized transportation services for Rhode Islanders age 60 and older and adults with disabilities. Transportation is available for general medical appointments, special medical appointments (kidney dialysis, cancer treatment, wound care), adult day services, the senior Café meals program, and for INSIGHT clients and programs. There is a $2 fee per ride. Medicaid recipients pay the $2 fee per ride only for transportation to the Café programs. Transportation to the Cafés is provided between hours of 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Reservations are required 48 hours in advance by calling LogistiCare, Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

1-855-330-9131..........................................................1-866-288-3133 (TTY)

LogistiCare also coordinates non-emergency transportation for Medicaid recipients who have no other means of medical transportation, or who have no other resource such as family, friends, bus passes, etc., and transportation by any other means would endanger the individual’s health and/or safety. Non-emergency transportation is covered when an individual has Medicaid and is receiving a Medicaid-covered service from an authorized provider. Reservations are required at least two (2) days in advance of the appointment.

1-855-330-9131..........................................................1-866-288-3133 (TTY)

NOTE: Some cities and towns offer senior transportation for non-medical destinations, such as the grocery store, or other locations. Call your local senior center, or city or town hall.
TRI-CARE HEALTH INSURANCE
